Today's children face far more challenges than we did as kids. From our governments to our boardrooms, to our health services, corruption, mismanagement and lack of human consideration and care are rampant in the world today. If we want to create a safer, healthier, more peaceful world for our children, it has to start with the way we parent, nurture and educate our children. And it has to start NOW!

Starting June 1st 2008, the Inspired Parenting Radio Show on the World Puja Network will be bringing you everything you need to know to support your children in achieving their full individual potential as healthy, resilient, compassionate, emotionally intelligent human beings.

Hosted by Sandra Sedgbeer, international author, publisher and Editor in Chief of INSPIRED PARENTING MAGAZINE, the Inspired Parenting Show will feature an eclectic mix of guests from the diverse fields of science, psychology, sociology, health, nutrition, metaphysics and the entertainment industry, all of whom have one thing in common: a heartfelt dedication to fostering peace, harmony and inclusion in society by educating the hearts of families and children.

Forthcoming topics and guests include: Autism, vaccinations, and taking back our parental power with actress, comedian, bestselling author and autism activist and spokesperson, Jenny McCarthy; The importance of building emotional intelligence and inner strength in children with internationally renowned educator, author and social and emotional learning expert, Linda Lantieri; The science of epigenetics, and how our attitudes, experiences, thoughts and beliefs affect our unborn children with cellular biologist and groundbreaking author of The Biology of Belief, Bruce Lipton; Raising a heart centered, healthy, compassionate child in Hollywood, with actress, and host of The Greatest Loser, Alison Sweeney; How adopting three unrelated sons changed the entire focus of actress Lauren Holly's life and career choices; How to talk to your children in language that builds self esteem, rather than destroys it, and why there are only three parenting strategies you will ever need, with authors and parenting experts, Chick Moorman and Thomas Haller... and so much more.

Produced and sponsored by CosmiKids, Inc., the INSPIRED PARENTING MAGAZINE RADIO SHOW will be broadcast every Sunday from June 1st 2008 on the World Puja Network at 10.00am and 5.00pm PST.

The World Puja Network has been broadcasting interviews with global leaders, authors, metaphysicians, scientists and more for over 9 years and now reaches listeners in 92 countries. To find out more about World Puja's program hosts, guests, and its new World Puja Teaching Annex, visit www.worldpuja.org. Membership is FREE.
